Where We Gather, We Thrive

August 20, 2013

Uy' skweyul,

On behalf of the Malahat Nation, welcome to our new Kwunew Kwasun Cultural Resource Centre, proudly supported by the Honourable Steven Point, Rotary International, Government House and Britco International (BC). The Centre is set to provide a new focal point in our community: a place to gather and learn and reinforce the culture and traditional values that, at least in part, define our peoples. I am proud to represent a community determined to hold steadfast to the wisdom of our Elders while embracing the technology, learning, and educational programming so necessary for success.

On November 2nd, 2013, the Malahat Nation will host an evening benefiting the Kwunew Kwasun Cultural Resource Centre, as well as the creation of a new endowment fund that will ensure that the legacy established today continues into the future. There is a broad range of sponsorship and donor opportunities available and I hope that as you review this package you will be inspired to lend your support to this worthwhile initiative.

For more information on the Centre or the event, please visit our website at malahatnation.ca or contact a member of our team at 250.743.3231.

About the Centre

The Malahat Kwunew Kwasun Cultural Resource Centre is envisioned as a place for community to learn, teach the values and re-build the strengths of its culture. The Centre aims to create a future where opportunities for learning and training will enable youth to be actively engaged and competitive in the job market. The Centre will have a focus on education accessible to all members of the community with an emphasis on literacy development and preschool programs.

About the Fundraiser

Buildings are far more than bricks and mortar, they represent the future and offer the opportunity to envision what is possible when we work together for the common good. The creation of the Malahat Kwunew Kwasun Cultural Resource Centre marks an important step for the community and the benefits of supporting literacy programs, job readiness training, and other learning and educational opportunities.

On November 2nd, 2013, the Malahat Nation will welcome guests to an exciting evening of traditional entertainment, active and captivating silent and live auctions, and a gourmet meal created by the culinary team at Brentwood College. Our goal in hosting an evening promoting the new Centre is two-fold: first, there is a significant need for funds to support the capital investment required to bring the building to fruition, as well as initiate the establishment of an endowment fund to provide on-going support. Second, it is important for us to recognize the commitment from the Honourable Steven Point, our founding partners, Rotary International, Government House, Britco International (BC), as well as the following donors:

Capacity Forest Management
Complete Asset Management
Herold Engineering
MacDonald & Lawrence
South Cowichan Rotary Club

Hulhetun Health
Iron River Forestry
Kemp Architects
Kwumut Lelum

Naut'sa mawt Tribal Council
S & B Windows
South Island Aggregates
Te'mewx Treaty Association

We hope that our stories and strong vision of a prosperous, proud and determined nation will inspire you to be counted among our corporate partners who have chosen to invest resources to help bring this vision to completion.
